Fila
Modular sofa

Fila, the new design for Sitzfeldt, plays with the existing attributes and qualities of the sofa collection and expands them with a sofa that exudes plenty of comfort already in its visual appearance. The curves of the slightly cambered surfaces promise soft and comfortable sitting and lounging.

Fila is a modular sofa. It fits extremely well into small rooms and feels impressively generous in large rooms. An important feature of the design is the identical height of the back cushion and the side cushions, which serve as arm rests, resulting in a compact, elegant and low volume. The grandeur of the design is apparent even in smaller and shorter combinations. The shape of the cushions, which are placed on a compact base, is remarkable. The seat and back cushions all lie at a 45 degree angle to the seat. This solution forms the most striking aspect of the design. It means that the cushions are well supported and appear very light. They form a highly visible continuous line. This characteristic outline emphasises the elegance of the design and demonstrates the high quality of the workmanship.
